

KOHL'S

Business Analyst Intern

That would look great in a LinkedIn profile. Just saying.

As a Business Analyst Intern, you will work closely with Kohl's internal business partners to determine specific needs they have identified within their area. You're the link between them and the Software Engineers who will work on bringing those details to life.

What you'll do

Determine what the business is looking for and then hand off to the software engineers/architects to focus on how to deliver it

Help formulate a strategy while building relationships with business partners

Work closely with project managers, software engineers, test teams, and strategy analysts

Develop an intern group project and present your innovative idea to Kohl's executives
