

KOHL'S

Product Management Intern

Has a nice ring to it, doesn't it?

As a Product Management Intern for Kohls.com, you will be the bridge between the business units and engineering teams. You will help guide our products from concept to launch and collaborate to grow their impact in the market.

What you'll do

Define a product vision and strategy

Determine the scope for feature additions and enhancements

Specify metrics that measure product success

Participate in an intern group project where you will present an innovative idea to Kohl's executives

This is you

Undergraduate Junior or First Year Masters

You're self-motivated, organized, and able to effectively manage your time

You would enjoy having a direct impact on Kohl's customers and how they shop online (gift registry, Kohl's app, etc.)

"No day is the same" sounds ideal to you - you hate being bored

Having multiple projects at once doesn't phase you
